Healing with Music

A Therapeutic Approach to Health

Healing with Music

In modern times, scientists, researchers and psychologists give their own account of the therapeutic effect of rhythms.

Recent research shows that drum rhythms strengthen the immune system, produce endorphins and release emotional trauma to create states of wellness.

The healing power of drums and music creates a balance that maintains the connection between body, mind and soul. It has been proven to have many therapeutic and transformative benefits. Research has demonstrated that energetic rhythms cause the brain to synchronize the two cerebral hemispheres. When the hemispheres pulsate in harmony expanded states of awareness are experienced. Meditations as well as visualizations, affirma-tions and positive attitude can be useful in promoting mind/body well-being.

Powerful neuronal connections are generated in all parts of the brain when entrained to the beat of the drum and even damaged sight can be enhanced.

More than ever, chronic pain continues to affect our quality of life. Drum rhythms and movement produce endorphins and endogenous opiates, the body's own morphine-like painkillers, even excruciating pain can be controlled with drumming. The healing power of the drum relieves stress, tension, confusion and induces deep profound relaxation, lowers blood pressure and transforms lives.

These methods of health and healing practices help improve mental physical and emotional release. Healing with music can be used alone or in conjunction with other modalities.

Testimonials

An osteopath, in a letter of recommendation, writes: "Mr. Onyemaechi is an African master drummer and healer who brings a significant benefit to the field of alternative medicine. He raises the level of honesty and education, bringing drumming and village-type healing to many patients I have referred to him. Onye is a man of superior quality and I feel that he would be a great addition to any program."

– J. Altar, Retired Osteopath and surgeon, Santa Rosa, CA

"I watched individuals shift with Onye's touch. Most seemed to be in a sort of reset, burdens lifted, moods elevated, spirit freed, with something new about each person who surrendered to the experience."

Ms. Joanna Smith, MI

"You have a real gift for working with terminally ill patients. When my husband was diagnosed, he was shocked, confused, and angry and most of all terrified of what lay ahead of him. Talking with you not only eased his mind but gave him hope. Your gentle, compassionate words gave him encouragement, helped him develop a more positive attitude and aided him in finding the peace and acceptance he needed to make him feel less afraid. I will always appreciate what you did for him."
